REPORT.

APPENDIX.

TO THE

FEVER HOSPITAL AND HOUSE OF RECOVERY. REPORT.

No. 1..

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS, &c.

FRAMED IN 1803.

1. THAT to relieve the destitute poor afflicted with fever, and to check the progress of contagion, are the main objects of the proposed Institution.

2. That in order to carry the design fully into effect, we are of opinion, that the erection of a new building, adapted in its construction and all its arrangements for the specific purpose of a House of Recovery, would be more desirable than the fitting up any old buildings designed for other purposes.

3. That we consider manifest poverty and disease, properly ascertained to the satisfaction of the Managing Committee (to be appointed as hereafter directed), and residence within a certain district (to be defined in the manner hereafter prescribed), as the only circumstances necessary to entitle a Patient to admission: and we are of opinion, that no recommendation of a subscriber should, on any account, be attended to unless the above circumstances shall, after minute enquiry at the houses of the persons recommended, be found to concur.

4. That the procuring the ground on which the House of Recovery shall be built, the erection of the building, and the providing the necessary furniture, be entrusted to fifteen Trustees, in whom the property of the Institution shall be invested, without any other control than that they shall permit the building to be used for the purpose of a House of Recovery, or Fever Hospital, conformably to the general principles now agreed on.

[F]

5. That in the outset of the Establishment, accommodation should be provided for the reception of at least forty Patients; but if the funds of the Institution, whether arising from donations or annual subscriptions, should so far increase as that a surplus shall remain after the above mentioned accommodation shall have been provided for, the Trustees shall be at liberty either to enlarge the Establishment, by providing accommodation for an additional number of Fever Patients, or in case such enlargement shall be deemed inexpedient, to such other measures as they shall deem most conducive to the health of the poor of this city; and in case the House of Recovery shall be hereafter discontinued for the space of three years, the said Trustees shall be at liberty to dispose of the property then in their possession, or the produce thereof, for the purposes aforesaid, in such manner as they shall deem most eligible.

6. That the management of the Institution, the extent of the district from whence Patients labouring under contagious Fever may be admitted into the House, the appointment of Physicians, Nurses, and all other Officers, and Servants, be vested in a Committee, consisting of the Trustees, and six other persons to be elected annually by the Governors.

7. That said Committee shall be fully competent to make all such rules and bye laws (not inconsistent with the principles expressed in these resolutions) as may seem best fitted to carry the objects of the Institution fully into effect, as well for the internal regulation of the House and the admission of Patients, as for preventing the spreading of contagion in the houses and neighbourhood from whence the Patients shall be removed, and for the introduction of such habits of cleanliness as may diminish, if not destroy, the operation of those causes that have contributed to make such an Institution so necessary at the present time, and to disburse from time to time such sums as may be necessary for any of the above purposes.

8. That a donation of twenty guineas, paid in any one year, shall make the donor Governor for life; and that annual subscribers of two guineas, or upwards, shall also be Governors, provided that no such annual subscriber (after the first year) shall vote at the election for members of the Managing Committee, unless his name shall have been on the books of the Institution, as a subscriber, for one whole year previous to such election, and unless he shall have paid his subscription for the year in which he shall tender his vote, together with all arrears thereof.

9. That it shall be lawful for the Managing Committee, at any meeting specially summoned for the purpose (not fewer than eleven members being present), to enlarge the sum necessary to constitute a Governor.

10. That when a vacancy or vacancies shall occur by the death or resignation of any of the Trustees, any one of the remaining Trustees shall have a power of convening the others, specifying the place, time, and purpose of the meeting, and giving three days notice thereof; and the Trustees who shall meet in consequence of such notice (provided every Trustee resident in the city of Dublin shall have been summoned, and not fewer than five shall have been assembled together,) shall be competent either to fill up such vacancy or vacancies, by the election of a new Trustee or Trustees, or to empower the Governors to enlarge the number of Managers to co-operate with the Trustees, by electing one or more additional Managers, as may seem best calculated to advance the purposes of the Institution; provided always, that the number of Managers shall not be enlarged beyond the number of nine, nor the number of Trustees reduced below the number of twelve, nor the whole number of the Committee beyond the number of twenty one, by such proceeding.

11. That in case of the insolvency or general non-residence of any one or more of the Trustees in the city of Dublin or within ten miles thereof, the remaining Trustees be, and they are hereby empowered (if they shall think it expedient so to do,) to declare the place of such Trustee or Trustees vacant, and to proceed either to the election of a new Trustee or Trustees, or to enlarge the number of elective Managers in the same manner, and subject to the same restrictions, as are contained in the foregoing resolution.

12. That in case it shall be found, by the experience of three years after the opening of the Hospital, that a Committee of twenty-one members is not sufficient for conducting the business of the Institution, it shall be competent for the Managing Committee, specially summoned for the purpose, and not fewer than eleven being assembled together, to declare that the number of elective Managers should be enlarged to any number not exceeding the number of Trustees at the time, or that the number of said annually elected Managers should be reduced to a number of not less than the original number of six, as the exigency of the Institution may require.

13. That in case it shall be found expedient to enlarge the Committee to the full number of thirty members, and the number of Trustees shall have been reduced below the original number of fifteen, it shall be competent to the Trustees, or any five of them, assembled in the manner described in the tenth resolution, to restore the original number of fifteen Trustees, in the manner herein before directed.

14. That it be an instruction to the Managing Committee, to take special care that such a registry shall be kept of all their proceedings, whether within the walls of the House of Recovery, or without, as shall enable them at all times to exhibit to the public a detailed view of their progress; and that it be a standing rule of the Institution, that at the end of the year after opening of the Hospital, and at the end of every succeeding year, an account of the annual income and expenditure, and all other particulars of their progress, shall be printed for the public information.

After the foregoing Resolutions had been passed, the subscribers proceeded to elect fifteen Trustees by ballot, when the following persons were declared to be duly elected :

EDWARD ALLEN.	JOHN DAVID LATOUCHE.
JOHN BARRINGTON.	RANDAL M'DONNELL.
SAMUEL BEWLEY.	GEORGE MAQUAY.
WILLIAM DISNEY.	JOHN L. MAQUAY.
THOMAS DISNEY.	JOHN ORR.

4. In order to counteract contagion, the apartments from whence Patients are removed to the Hospital shall be whitewashed by persons appointed for the purpose, when the extern Physician shall report it to be necessary ; and whenever the extern Physician shall report to the Managing Committee that Fever of a peculiar malignancy exists in a particular dwelling, all necessary measures shall be taken by them to purify the furniture, bedding, &c. in order to extinguish the existing contagion ; and in cases where the removal of the sick person shall not be deemed advisable, or where the fever shall have ceased in a dwelling-house, and any measures shall appear to the extern Physician necessary or conducive to prevent the renewal of its effects, he shall report his opinion thereon to the Managing Committee, who may give directions for their adoption.

5. No Officer or Servant of the Institution shall presume at any time to take from any Patient, Tradesman, Servant, or others, any fee or gratuity of any kind, directly or indirectly, for any service done or to be done on account of the Institution, on pain of being immediately dismissed.

6. In order to form a permanent fund for the maintenance of the Institution, all sums given to the charity, whether by legacy or donation, amounting to fifty pounds and upwards, shall be laid out in such Government securities as shall be approved of by the Committee.

- 1st. The Purveyor's account for the preceding month to be examined and passed.
- 2d. Orders on the Treasurers to be issued.
- 3d. Medicines and all other articles wanted for the current month to be ordered.

1. The Physicians and Surgeon shall be elected annually, to wit, on the first meeting of the Managing Committee in the month of November. The Committee to be specially summoned for the purpose, and no election or dismissal of a Physician or Surgeon to take place at such first meeting, unless there be eleven members present; nevertheless, if said number do not attend at the next meeting of the Committee specially summoned for the purpose, the Members present being a quorum, at such second meeting shall be competent to act.

2. Two of the Physicians shall attend to the intern duty, and two to the extern, and the Physicians both intern and extern are to visit the Hospital every day, at ten o'clock in summer, and half past ten in winter, and to write their names, and the hour of attendance, in a book for the purpose.

3. The Pharmacopœia agreed on by the Physicians, and sanctioned by the Managing Committee, shall be adhered to.

4. The Physicians shall write their prescriptions in books to be kept for that purpose, and give the necessary directions to the Apothecary respecting the medical treatment of the Patients, in the interval between their daily visits, also respecting the ventilation of the passages and wards.

5. Each of the extern Physicians are to attend at the Hospital at the time specified in the foregoing rule, No. 2, and to receive the applications for admission that have been left. The applicants shall then be visited as soon as possible, and if he find their diseases to be such as are fit to be admitted into the Hospital, he shall fill up, and sign a printed order for admission, which he shall direct the Patient's friends to take immediately to the Hospital. If the Physician finds the case unfit for removal to the Hospital, he shall, on the following day, state the same in the registry for application for admission; and it is to be noticed as a fundamental principle of the Institution, that no Patient is to be admitted into the Hospital but in the manner set forth in this rule, except that if the Physicians obtain knowledge of a poor person labouring under contagious fever in any other manner than in that before recited, he is not only at liberty, but enjoined to order such poor Patient to be admitted.

6. The Physician shall report in the order for admission, all the apartments from whence Patients are brought to the Hospital that require whitewashing, and to the Managing Committee when cases of peculiar malignancy exist that call for other measures.

10. The intern Physicians shall order the removal of Patients from fever to convalescent wards, as they shall judge necessary; and in case of relapse, shall immediately order them back again. When they judge Patients sufficiently recovered to leave the Hospital, they shall put in the diet book, instead of the order for diet, a mark (say †), and no Patients are to be discharged from the Hospital without this mark. In case of death, instead of the order for diet, another mark shall be affixed (say ††).

REGISTER, PURVEYOR, AND COLLECTOR.

1. He shall reside in the Hospital, and be accountable for all articles committed to his charge; he shall have a general care over the premises, have them kept in neat and clean order, and if any thing thereon appears amiss he shall have it rectified, or report to the Committee. The Porters and Whitewashers shall be under his care and direction, save that the Apothecary is to give them direction respecting that part of their duty which comes under his control.

2. He shall keep the accounts of the Institution regularly, by double entry; fairly copy the proceedings of the Trustees, general meetings of Governors, and of the Managing Committee; and summon the meetings of Trustees and Committees as required.

3. He shall give orders so that the House be kept well supplied with those articles of provisions which the Committee have contracted for; and shall purchase, on the best terms, those small articles for the dietary that are not supplied by contract. He shall deliver out the provisions to the Housekeeper according to the diet tables, and the order of the Physicians as to the number of Patients on each description of diet. He shall keep exact accounts of the transactions under this head, according to the forms laid down by the Committee. He shall be responsible for any errors or deficiencies in this department, and shall have no profit whatever arising therefrom.

4. The coals shall be under his care, and he shall deliver out to the several Officers, Nurses and Servants, the different allowances ordered for their use.

5. He shall collect the subscriptions with diligence, care and respect, and lodge the sums, so collected, with the Treasurer, at least once a week, and deliver the reports of the Institution to the subscribers.

APOTHECARY.

1. He shall reside in the Hospital, and be accountable for all articles committed to his charge; and shall not practise as an Apothecary, except for the Institution. He shall keep an exact registry of all Patients applying for admission, also a registry of all those that are brought into the House, in books for those purposes.

2. On receipt of the Physicians order he shall send the Hospital carriage (having previously viewed the inside, and seen that it and the bedding are in a clean and proper state) for the Patient, and give the Porters who attend it one of the printed advices respecting removing infection, to be left in the room the Patient is brought from, and direct the Whitewashers to whitewash such apartment as the Physicians notify to him stand in need thereof.

3. He shall attend on the male Patients (as the Housekeeper on the female, in the reception-room of the Hospital), and be responsible that their clothes are taken off, immersed in cold water, and given in charge to the laundry-maid; that their hands, face, and limbs, are washed and made perfectly clean with warm water and soap, and their hair combed; and that each Patient be provided with the Hospital dress previous to being removed into any of the wards.

4. He shall satisfy himself, by frequent personal visitation by night as well as by day, that the Patients are properly attended to by the Nurses, and get their medicine and drinks as directed. The strict observance of this rule will be especially necessary in fever accompanied with delirium.

5. The ventilation of the passages and wards will be regulated by the intern Physicians, and the Apothecary shall be responsible that their orders are implicitly obeyed.

6. He shall, on the death of a Patient, send notice thereof to the friends of the deceased, at the apartments from whence the Patient was brought to the Hospital. If they do not send for the body within twenty-four hours he shall send it for interment to the most convenient burying ground, in the carriage provided by the Hospital for that purpose.

HOUSEKEEPER.

1. She shall reside in the Hospital and be accountable for all furniture, bedding, clothing, and other articles committed to her charge. She will have the control over the several Nurses and female Servants; and in conjunction with the Apothecary, be responsible that the Nurses, by night as well as by day, attend upon the sick with diligence, and that they administer such medicines and drinks as shall have been prescribed for them at the times, and in the manner ordered by the Physicians.

2. She shall attend on the female Patients (as the Apothecary on the male,) in the reception room of the Hospital, and be responsible that their clothes are taken off, immersed in cold water, and given in charge to the Laundry Maid; their hands, face and limbs washed, and made perfectly clean with warm water and soap, and their hair combed; and that each Patient be provided with the Hospital dress previous to being removed into any of the wards.

3. She shall be responsible for the general cleanliness of the Hospital, and that the passages and wards are washed three or four times a week with a wet mop, and carefully swept every morning before visiting hour, and this to be done over every part of the floor of each occupied ward ; it will likewise be her duty to see that all discharges from the Patients shall be removed from the wards into the water-closets without delay.

4. She shall, when any female Patient shall be taken in labour, send immediately for an accoucheur, so that no time may be lost in providing the necessary relief.

5. The laundry will be under her special superintendence, and she shall be responsible that all linen and bed-clothes, immediately on being removed from the bodies of the Patients, be immersed in cold water ; that the clothes brought into the House by Patients be properly purified, aired, and kept in her custody, she taking especial care, in all cases, that they be perfectly dry before they are delivered to Patients on their discharge.

6. She shall see, that on the death of a Patient, the body be stretched out, properly dressed, and laid in a coffin, and deposited in a room appropriated to that specific purpose.

7. She shall, in the winter months, (that is from first of November to first of May) furnish each Patient with a flannel waistcoat that shall be certified to her by one of the intern Physicians to require it, on account of their labouring under a pulmonary or rheumatic disease, which requires the warmth of such additional clothing, to forward recovery, as well as to guard against the chance of relapse into fever ; said certificate shall be a voucher to her, in accounting for the number of waistcoats given into her charge.

8. She shall receive from the Purveyor the provisions for the diet of the Patients, Nurses and Servants, agreeably to the tables of diet, and the orders of the Physicians as to the number of Patients on each description of diet, and shall see that they be properly cooked and served at the appointed hours.

9. When she considers any of the Nurses and Servants employed, ineligible to be retained, she shall report to the Committee to get an order for their discharge, and shall make enquiry into the characters of such as apply, and engage those she shall think most eligible, which engagements shall be reported to the succeeding meeting of the Committee for confirmation ; and she is required to read the rules for Nurses and female Servants, together with the fifth general rule, to each Nurse or female Servant she engages.

PATIENTS.

1. They are to observe the greatest regularity and decency at all times, and are not to eat or drink of any thing unless ordered by the Physicians, and supplied by the Hospital.

2. No intercourse shall be permitted between the Patients accommodated in the Fever and Convalescent Hospitals.

3. The convalescent Patients shall breakfast at nine, dine at two, and sup at eight o'clock each day. Diet tables shall be hung up in the several convalescent wards of the Hospital for their information.

4. The Clergy of all persuasions shall be admitted to see any Patient in the Hospital, on application being made to the Apothecary for that purpose; no other person shall be allowed to visit any Patient in the Hospital, except on Tuesdays and Saturdays, at twelve o'clock, and not even then without leave from the Apothecary, who is ordered not to grant such indulgence but for a short space of time, taking especial care that the persons so admitted conduct themselves in a decent and proper manner, and not place themselves more than is necessary in the way of infection.

PORTERS.

1. They shall reside in lodges at the gates of the Hospital premises, and some of their families shall attend to the opening and shutting thereof; and it is expected that their lodges shall be kept peculiarly neat and clean, and that such of their family as attend the gate shall be always clean and respectable in their persons and apparel.

2. They shall, on receiving instructions from the Apothecary, proceed with the carriage, and convey the patients to the Hospital, from their own homes, with due attention to decorum and humanity, taking care to leave the printed advices respecting removing infection in the rooms the patients are brought from, and urge their attention thereto. They are to behave civilly and decently to the inhabitants of the houses from whence patients are brought, and not on any account to take either money, drink, or other gratuity for any service they may perform, under pain of dismission. In case of death, they shall convey the bodies from the wards to the place of interment, when not claimed by relations or friends.

When not employed as above, they shall be under the order and control of the Purveyor, and do whatever they may be directed by him in the service of the Institution, whether in serving out coals, supplying the cistern with water, weeding, sweeping, and cleansing the premises, or otherwise.

WHITEWASHERS.

1. They shall proceed every morning to whitewash such apartments as shall be specified in a list furnished by the Apothecary. They shall slack the lime in the rooms, and whitewash every part of the walls they can get at, by removing the beds, furniture, &c. taking care previously to brush away all cobwebs and dirt. They shall behave civilly and decently to the inhabitants, and not, on any account, take either money, drink, or other gratuity, for any service they may perform, under pain of dismissal.

When not employed in whitewashing, they shall be under the order and control of the Purveyor, and do whatever they may be directed by him in the service of the Institution, whether in serving out coals, supplying the eistern with water, weeding, sweeping and cleaning the premises or otherwise, it being fully understood that their whole time shall be at the disposal of the Committee.

NURSES AND FEMALE SERVANTS.

1. These shall be subject to the direction and control of the Housekeeper.
2. The Nurses shall, with attention and humanity, wait upon and take care of the sick under the direction of the Physicians, Apothecary and Housekeeper, and keep their respective wards in neat and clean order. When the patients are brought to the Hospital, they shall convey them to their wards after they have been properly cleaned.
3. If any Nurse or Female Servant shall be dismissed, during a quarter, for misconduct, such Nurse or Female Servant shall be deemed, for such misconduct, to have forfeited their wages for the then current quarter.

HOUSE OF RECOVERY, CORK-STREET.

ADVICE.

Though you have sent your friend to the House of Recovery, yet the infection may still remain in your rooms, and about your clothes: to remove it, you are advised to use, without delay, the following means:

First. Let all your doors and windows be immediately thrown open, and let them remain so for two hours.

Secondly. Let the house or room whence the Patient is removed be immediately cleansed. All dirty clothes, utensils, &c. should be immersed in cold water. The bed-clothes, after being first steeped in cold water, should be wrung out and washed in warm water and soap.

Thirdly. Let the clothes you wear be steeped in cold water, and afterwards washed; and let every box, chest, drawer, &c. in the infectious house be emptied and cleansed.

Fourthly. If you lie on straw-beds, let the straw be immediately burned, and fresh straw provided, and let the ticken be steeped in cold water.

Fifthly. Whitewash all your rooms, and the entrance to them, with lime slacked in the place where you intend to use it, and while it continues bubbling and hot.

Sixthly. Scrape your floor with a shovel, and wash it clean, also your furniture.

Seventhly. Keep in the open air, for the space of a week, as much as you can.

And Lastly. Wash your face, hands and feet, and comb your hair well, every morning, at least.

N. B. The benefit of this ADVICE, after infection has entered your dwelling, you will soon feel; and persevering in your attention to it, will, UNDER GOD, preserve you from all the variety of wretchedness occasioned by infectious Fevers.

Attend to it then with spirit and punctuality, for be assured that will check DISEASE, improve your HEALTH and STRENGTH, and increase your COMFORT.
